

The Three Eternal Destinies #112*Fate versus Destiny*

Destiny is the Eternal State that is determined by Human will . It is the place at the end of the journey of a person's life in this age, his Eternal Destiny determined by his deeds.

A person's destiny is unalterable after one dies (Heb 9:27). The first death is Fate. It is unavoidable. But the second death can be avoided, now.

Gen 2:9,17 is unavoidable Fate. But Rev 21:8 is not. Gen 2:17 is the first death. Rev 21:8 is the second death. No one has to do what is mentioned in Rev 21:8 or 22:15 or Rom 1:24,26,28-31. The second death is not one's fate. It is a man's choice, just as was Gen 2:9,17; 3:6 — after their choice, there was no way to alter the first death. Messiah is the only way to undo the first death, Fate (1 Jn 3:8; Heb 2:14). If one is unjust or filthy as Rev 22:11, Messiah is the only means by which his Destiny can be avoided (1 Cor 6:9-11). Even the Righteous person's Fate is sealed in Rev 22:11 in a first death and not a second death.

The only way there can be any unsealing of fate is by the Spirit (Eph 1:13). His Spirit overpowers Fate and grants a new Destiny.

A Bus called Destiny

This Bus called Destiny or The Twelve Tribes is to be sent out for a designated time to travel, according to the leading of the Spirit. It will be full of evangelists sent out to preach.

Set up tables downtown in every city with the sign, The Three Eternal Destinies of Man. In each city stay as long as the fruit is ripe. Make disciples to send back to the tribes. Papers will continually be printed and sent to them by another bus, maybe with other evangelists to replace those who must return. Establish Way-Out Houses.

Know where you are going. What or where is your eternal destiny?
