

The Three Eternal Destinies #159 Foundations, Part 4

Hippiecrit

Picture a dog returning to its vomit. What the hippies vomited up in the '60s & '70s, they have been lapping back up in the '80s & '90s (Crosby, Stills & Nash). The "Big Compromise" was to go back into a system and change it from within. It is as our song called Insanity spoke of:

I've tried to change the system without getting in the mud;

And I found that it's an impossibility.

Here I find myself strengthening a fallen world;

I need to get out of this insanity.

While the world imagined what they could never bring about – a brotherhood of man.

During the '60s & '70s, what they renounced, denounced, detested, resisted, and protested, they wholeheartedly participated in during the '80s & '90s. But what will they be doing in the millenium, or in eternity? Which of the three eternal destinies will they end up at?

If you don't change the direction you are going you will end up where you are headed. Where are you headed?

You are headed where your head is. Is your head in a cloud? If you don't know where you are headed, any road will get you there.

Know where you are going. If you don't know where you are headed you will end up where you are going. If you don't change the direction where you are going you will end up where you are headed. If you don't know where you are going any road will get you there.